The consequences of the contact breaking for Oliver with his mother

Dear Mrs. LEE,

Referring to my complaint of January 24, 2013 submitted to the High Commissioner of the United Nations for brutal parental alienation of Oliver from his mother, I did receive your last informal message on June 5, 2014. Obviously the High Commissioner of human rights is not at all eager to implement the human rights.

Below, I submit to you a report about the catastrophic consequences of your inactivity. I invite you to comment:

The usual judiciary craziness in Germany

A child wants to go back to the mother, and is not allowed to do so. Decided this way by German courts.

Human empathy among the collaborators of youth protection services and Justice are nowadays practically inexistent any more.

The parents of alienated children are living in the wrong movy. They perceive it as to be lived, among others the mother of the little Oliver (9). His father, Jan WOHLGEMUTH, who has attempted several times to strangle the mother, insulting her as a Russian bitch, had engaged himself towards the youth protection service of Leipzig to continue to live here, since the child was still small and breastfed. He exploited the opportunity. After having obtained the exclusive custody of the little Oliver by the Judge Bernd WEIFENBACH, born on June 17, 1962 (District court Leipzig), he moved to his parents in Münnster. Here in

Leipzig, he was supported by an assistant of the youth protection services. Apparently the father was overcharged in his newly granted paternal role. However, the mother, Mrs. Dr. Eike LAUTERBACH (42, qualified interpreter, half Russian) continues to struggle, albeit not having left a lot of energy, nor hope. The Judge Jan-Hendrik ZEIDLER, born on May 14, 1980 of the District court of Münster is preventing the mother who is unable to travel to Münster since two years the contact with her child. He refers to a wrong expertise established by Lars-Uwe GARLEPP. The Judge Julia THÜNTE-WINKELMANN, born on August 29, 1970 is ignoring several medical certificates concerning the mother, among others that one of the Lady professor at the University hospital of Leipzig. This physician is attesting her disability to travel. And the Judge is misunderstanding the fact that the heavily disabled mother cannot by any means travel from Leipzig to Münster (1'400 km for both ways), for just one hour of surveyed contact. Meanwhile, the mother has become disable to work, and she could not finance such a trip with her modest income from social assistance. Nonetheless, Oliver still wants to see his mother and said to the Lady Judge, that he wished to speak with her either before or during Christmas 2018. Once again, mother and child were not allowed to see each other, since the mother cannot travel, and surveyed phone conversations have yet to be organized (sic!). The child abduction industry is working that way in Germany. Everybody wants to make a living with the sufferings of others. She does not even have the right to get pictures of the child. As a mother, she does not succeed to soften the hard-hearted Lady Judge Julia THÜNTE-WINKELMANN, originating probably from Western Germany. The mother is crying her longing after her son. But she is not heard in Germany. Mother and child cannot find together, because the Judges (Bernd WEIFENBACH, Julia THÜNTE-WINKELMANN, Hendrik ZEIDLER ...), the youth protection services (Mrs. RECKORDT in Münster, Mrs. KRAUSE and DIETRICH from the child protection services in Leipzig), the trustees (Mrs. SCHULTE-EVERSUM, Mrs. THORWARTH), grandparents (Wolfgang and Sabine WOHLGEMUTH), the father (Jan WOHLGEMUTH) ... are opposing, earning comfortably their living.

Sincerely yours

Dr. Eike LAUTERBACH
